

Abstract Of Technical Disclosure For The Team Sport Invention:

Heatball

Heatball is a new team sport and game invention. With new rules and court designs. Heatball was created to be played by male and female players, on foot, on skates, and wheelchairs. Various new court designs with various surfaces were specifically created for this new sport and game. Players follow specific rules using a ball, ramps, court symbols, and acrobatic feats, with the objective of scoring points. Heatball courts may have various dimensions & settings. Courts may have elevated areas throughout the court, and may have an elevated wall with a rail, along the outer edge of the court, players may jump onto this wall during the game. Final objective: For a team to obtain the highest amount of points to win the game. [Specific rules, drawings, and symbols found on a Heatball court are explained in detail, in the rule book submitted with this application.]